In a world where man seems to exist for the sole purpose of destroying himself, preservation of peace is a universal concern. Everywhere we turn—newspapers, radio, television—evidence of man's aggression can be found. In order to preserve and maintain peace, the people of the world must forget their prejudices, aid one another, and learn to live in harmony. The key to universal harmony is well stated in the theme of the 1964-65 New York World's Fair: "Peace Through Understanding."

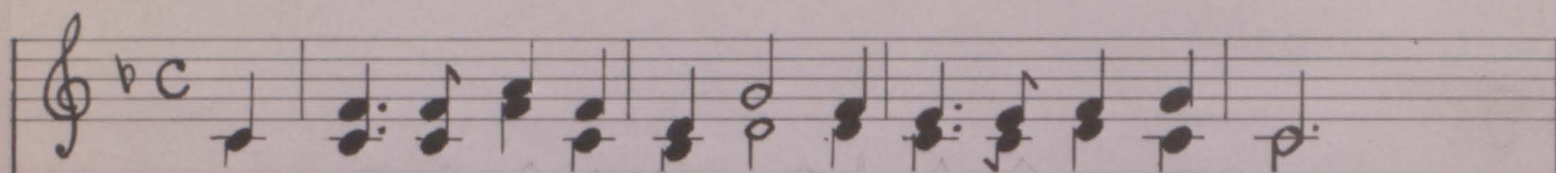

Understanding comes from insight, insight comes from education, and education is the objective of the school. School stimulates us to think, to compare, to criticize, to comprehend; it makes us aware of our environment and how we fit into it. The study of classroom subjects—mathematics, English, business law, chemistry, consumer problems, etc.—under the expert direction of the faculty, prepares us to promote the betterment of mankind.

RODUCTION

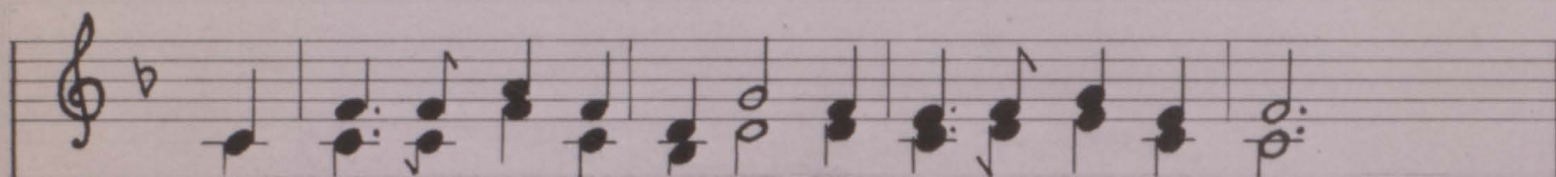

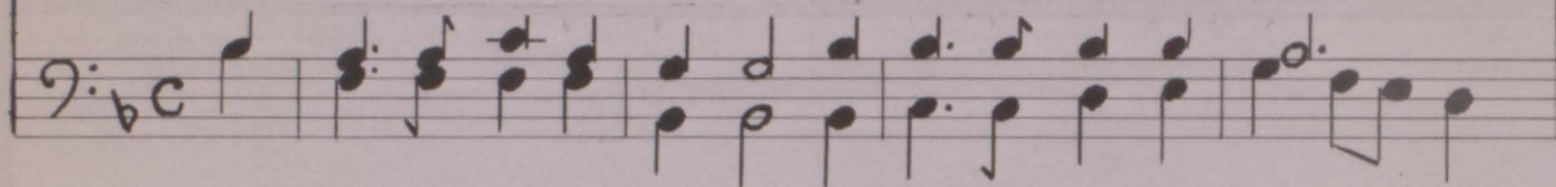

While academic pursuits are of first importance, extracurricular activities are a necessary phase of school to make our education complete. These activities, which include sports and clubs, teach us how to get along with one another. No matter what the organization, its success is directly dependent upon the willingness of its members to forget their differences and work for the benefit of the group. If the peoples of the world would emulate the spirit of cooperation shown by students who work together in school organizations, we would have that harmony and friendship, that "peace through understanding," which can overcome the aggression and hatred besetting the world today.

DEDICATION

During our high school years we were fortunate to have an expert guidance staff to aid us, advise us, and pull us through our difficulties. All our counselors shared in helping us solve our problems and plan our futures; to each of them we offer sincere thanks. But we owe our greatest debt of gratitude to our head counselor, Miss Elizabeth A. McHugh.

Miss McHugh knew each one of us personally. She took time from her busy schedule to lend a sympathetic ear to all our problems, no matter how large or small they seemed.

Many of us first met Miss McHugh when we entered the seventh grade. We were her "children" then; we are her "children" now, as we always shall be. We are much richer individuals for having known Miss McHugh, and we are grateful for having her to guide us through a very difficult part of our lives.

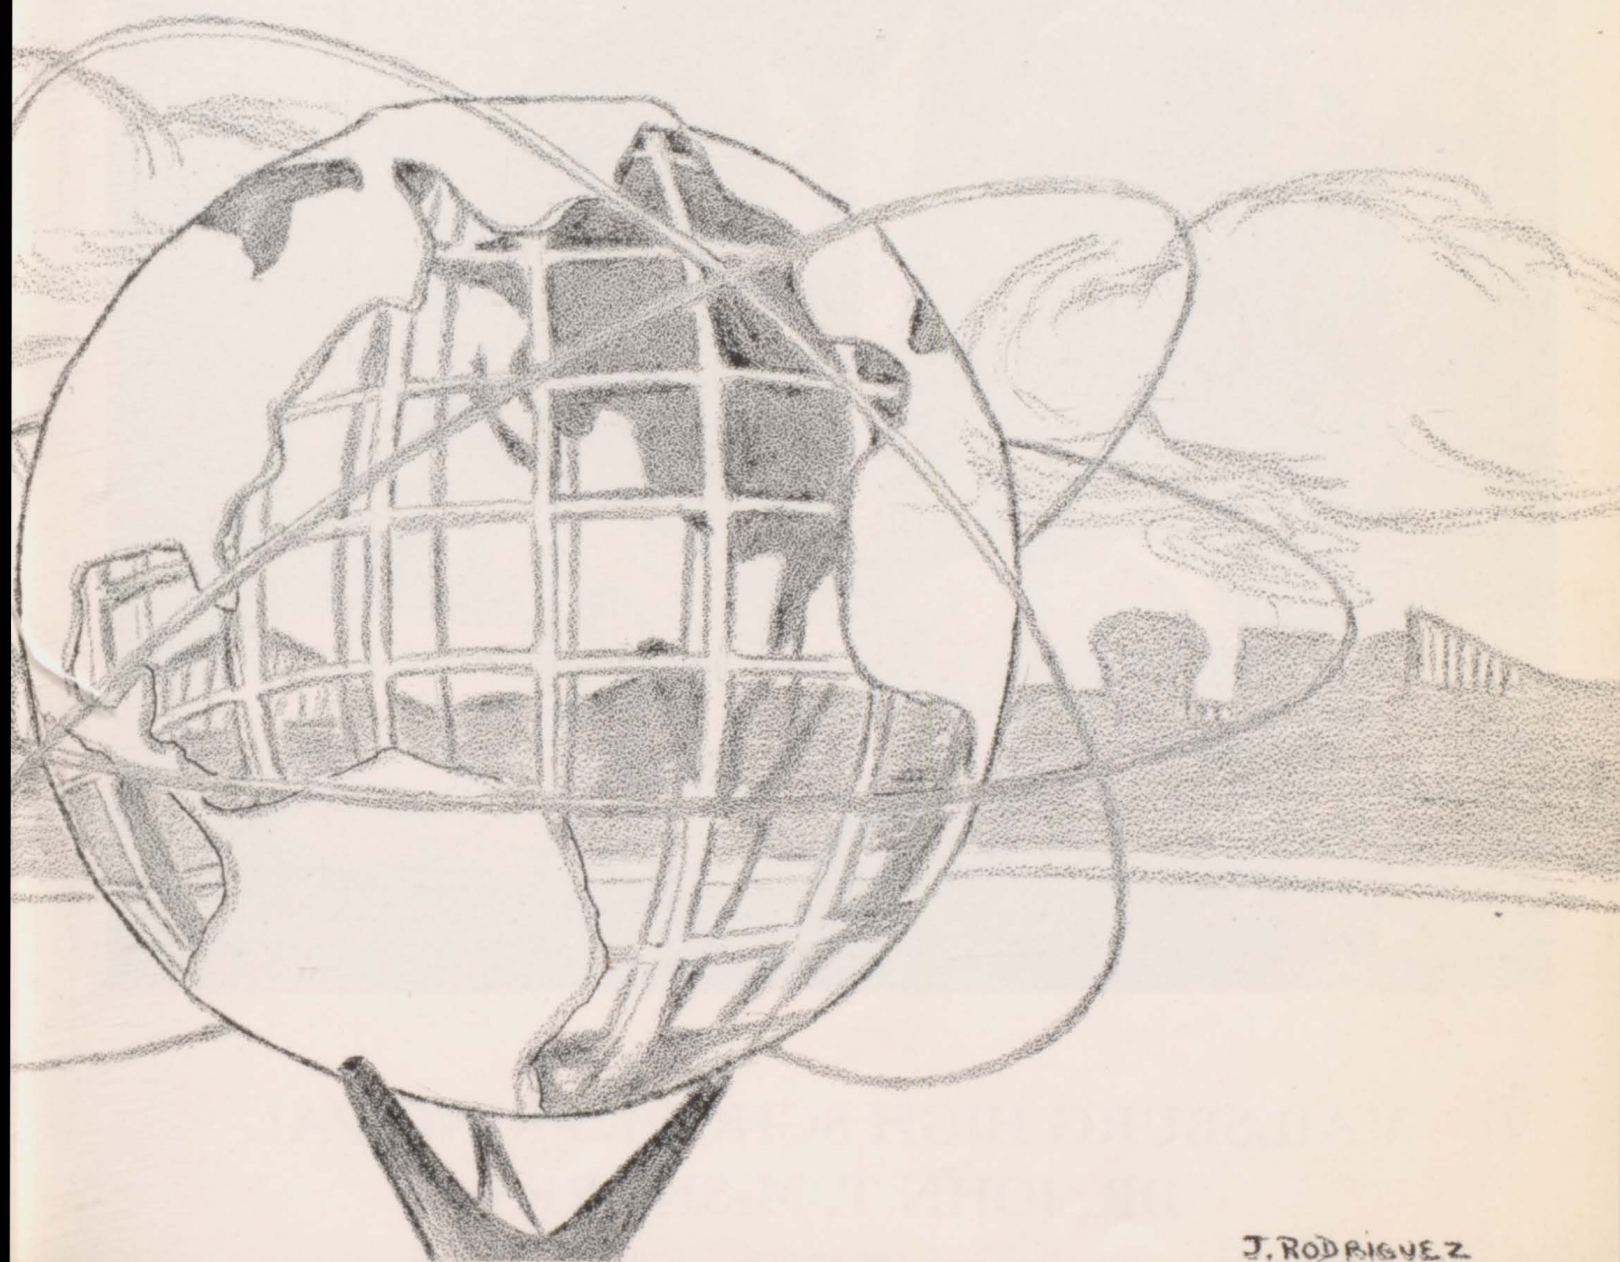

To express heartfelt appreciation for all she has done, we, the class of nineteen hundred and sixty-five, proudly dedicate our yearbook, the VALKYRIAN, to Miss Elizabeth A. McHugh.

Faculty

The theme of the impressive 1964-65 New York World's Fair was "peace through understanding". Through understanding one gains insight into himself, other human beings, and the many problems of the world. As a result of this insight, the feeling of kinship among men is increased and the solution of world problems is brought closer. Understanding, therefore, is the most effective key to peace.

By far the most instrumental factor at Vailsburg High in bringing about understanding is the faculty. The competent teacher not only instructs from texts and teaching aids, but also relies on his own experience, wisdom, and insight. The latter are far more valuable and effective than any books or aids he may employ. We at Vailsburg High have been fortunate in having teachers who have a wealth of experience, wisdom, and insight as well as knowledge to foster the understanding that leads to peace.

VAILSBURG HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL
DR. JOHN T. McSHARRY

MESSAGE TO SENIORS

It is right that Graduation should be called Commencement Day, for it is not the end but the beginning. The four years you spent at Vailsburg should now begin to bear fruit. The many hours spent at study, at play, and at the many school activities will soon prove their value. But above all, the philosophy of our Viking motto, "Liberty with Loyalty," will soon come into its own. As adults you will have even more liberties than you had at Vailsburg. Now, you will have to exercise your "loyalty" to a greater degree—loyalty to your conscience, to your family, to the Purple and White.

You were good for Vailsburg! It is our hope that we have been good for you, too! We wish you well.

VICE PRINCIPAL

Congratulations on receiving the high school diploma. It is an important milestone on the road to being an educated person, but it is not the end of that road. Education is a life-long process—in school and out.

No one is truly educated until he is able to tell right from wrong, to do the right thing when it ought to be done, and to do it regardless of his own convenience. Some never acquire this ability and so are forever uneducated regardless of what diplomas or degrees they possess.

May you continue to grow in self-discipline of thought and action to the gratification of yourself, your family, and your fellowmen.

Seniors

Having passed over the threshold of graduation, we take with us the basic knowledge and skills which we have acquired through our high school days. During these years, we have learned to face responsibilities and to cope with the many problems of our day. Most important of all, we have learned that all men are brothers and that we must live in harmony with others to gain everlasting "peace through understanding."

Our days at Vailsburg High School have been very happy and valuable ones. As we look back on our experiences of the past four years, we realize that our love for and loyalty to Vailsburg High will always flourish. As we go forth into the world of new knowledge, may God be with us always.

Sports

Nearly everyone at Vailsburg is involved in some way with the sports program. Both player and spectator learn good sportsmanship, loyalty, and respect for and understanding of their teammates and opponents. Respect and understanding help remove prejudices and lead to the goal of "peace through understanding."

A school's participation in interscholastic competition is an important factor in the development of that school's reputation. A reputation is built not only upon the won and lost record, but also upon the behavior and sportsmanship of the teams and their supporters. Measured by either of these standards, Vailsburg's reputation is among the best.

VIKINGS BEGIN AND END SEASON IN VICTORY

L. to R. First Row: Dick Hiben, Jim Bartilotta, Don Bernard, John DePalma, Jeff Goodwin, Bruce Jones, Greg Zittel, Bob Stanzone, Mike Abbondante, Gil Mangucci, Carl Roberts, Ken Miller. Second Row: Tom Abbondante, Tod Wagenbach, Frank Williams, Bob Villanova, Gary Gann, Lou Pedalino, Joe Marotta, Frank Cifelli, Aaron Lewit, Mike Cosimano, Dan D'Amico, John Bellavia, Lou Paglia, Myles MacDonald, Nick Faragi, Al Insabella, Jud Lombardi, Joe Lordi, Jerry Napoliello, Mike Blake, Tony Brown.

The Viking eleven, coached by Mr. Sol Stone, won the opening and closing games of the 1964 season.

Thirsting for revenge, the Vikings opened the season by surprising Central and the Newark News sports writer, too, by defeating the Blue Devils, 7-0. Vailsburg's score came late in the second quarter when Danny D'Amico battered across the enemy goal line. The conversion was successful. Vailsburg's brilliant defensive action held Central scoreless.

After seven losses, Vailsburg met West Essex at the Scarlet Knights' field for the Thanksgiving Day classic. Trailing 9-6 at half time, we pulled the game out with a touchdown on the second play of the final quarter. Don Bernard had it set up by intercepting a pass and running it back 48 yards. Kenny Miller then passed to Bernard for the winning touchdown.

The team has great hopes for the future because of the experience it has gained in the past three seasons and the promising underclassmen who are coming up.

COACHES: Art Scavone, Sol Stone, Frank Davide

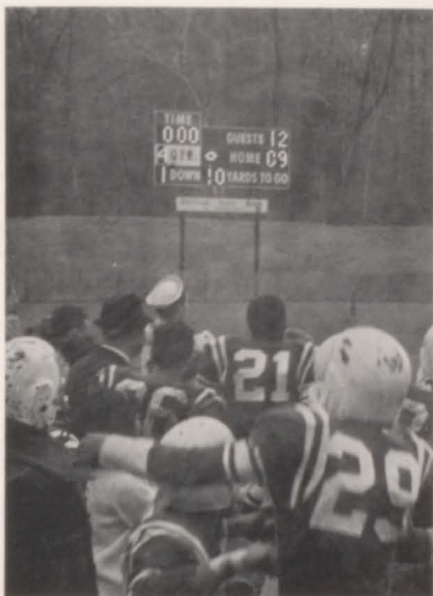

Don Bernard stops Cedar Grove halfback for little gain.

Lewit and Insabella throw Knight's quarterback for 12-yard loss.

Viking halfback Miller stuns Panther defense on end run.

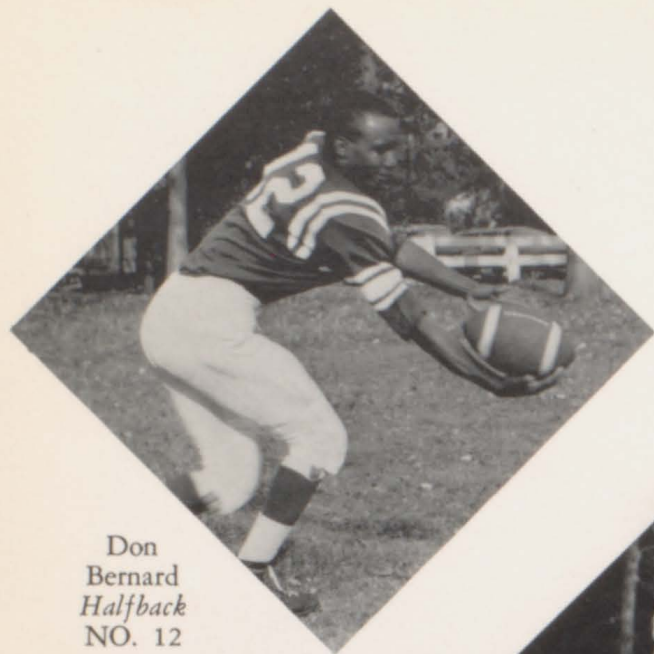

A happy ending to a well-earned victory.

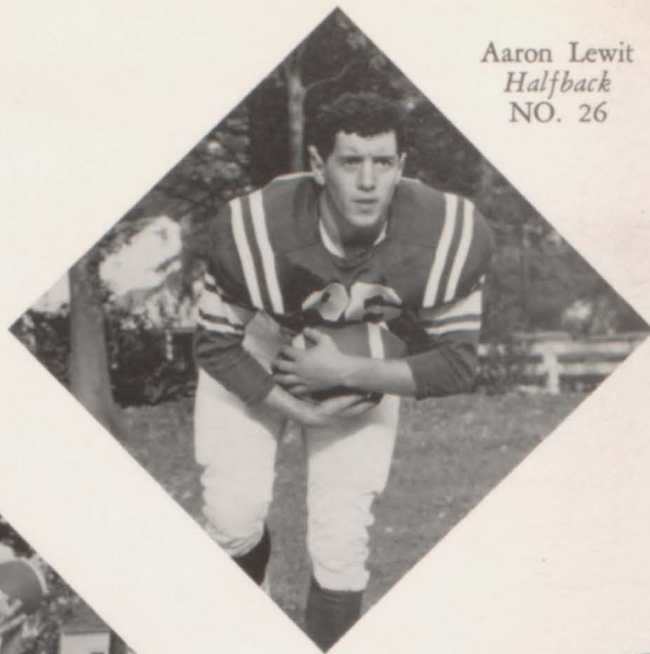

First and ten.

Viking fans storm field to congratulate victorious team.

CAPTURES TITLE

SOCCER CHAMPIONSHIP

In only its third year of varsity soccer, Vailsburg won the state championship in its division, Group III. With a fine record of 13-3-2, Coach Mirabella can be congratulated for his outstanding work in molding a championship squad which demonstrated a high level of team play.

In the city league, Vailsburg placed second to East Side. It must be remembered that East Side, which is a much larger school and has had more experience, is a perennial soccer power.

The climax of the season came with the championship game against River Dell. The game was scoreless until late in the first quarter when Vailsburg, on a tremendous drive, scored its first goal. The second and final goal for the Vikings came in the third quarter on a penalty kick. River Dell was saved from a shutout when they scored on a penalty kick in the last two seconds of the game.

In 1964, for the second year in a row, Vailsburg High's fighting nine clinched the City League Championship. Mr. Reilly, the team's coach, had the distinct honor of winding up his coaching career with a championship squad.

The season reached a climax in the final game when Vailsburg and East Side, each with identical records of 13 wins and 4 losses, met for the championship. The Vikings won the decisive victory by a close 2-1 margin.

special honors. Bob Feld and Joe Abruzzese were elected to the all-city squad, along with Mike Insabella, whose grand-slam home run in the Weequahic game will always be remembered. Ray DeRiggi was elected to the all-county and all-state teams.

Other seniors who contributed greatly to the team's success were Jim Bartilotta, whose pinch-hitting ability was a great asset, and Bill DeLucia, a boy who saved many a game with his almost supernatural defensive ability.

WRESTLING

Last year a wrestling club was started at Vailsburg. This year the club became a team and under the expert coaching of Mr. Michael Mirabella made a fine showing in Group III competition. Although the Vikings placed fifth in the first city-wide championship, two senior matmen took second place honors and two underclassmen received bronze medals for capturing third place. Based on the performance of underclassmen who will be returning in the fall, it can be safely stated that our wrestling team is destined for the top.

The Viking cagers finished the season with a slightly disappointing record of 8 and 12. "We had hoped to have at least a .500 record," said Mike Insabella, dynamic 5' 6" guard at the close of the season, "but the odds were against us."

With the loss of two of our starters, Coach Liddy had to do some intricate manipulating to keep the team on its feet. "Lack of height was our main handicap" stated Vailsburg's all-time high scorer Ray DeRiggi. Ray broke the school record with an impressive 345 points for the season. Another school record was broken by Jim Bartilotta, who pulled down 260 rebounds.

The outstanding achievement of the season was the defeat of Barringer by the score of 120-78. A victory of equal magnitude had not been paralleled in Essex County for many years.

The great sense of humor of the Viking five kept morale high throughout the season; and although the squad did not have a winning team, good sportsmanship and high spirits prevailed at all times.

The tennis team, in its first year at Vailsburg, had a very successful season. The team placed second in the city and played against several out-of-city schools, too. Coached by Mr. Hanley and Mr. Foley, English teachers at Vailsburg, and captained by Brian Maher, the team can look forward to a bright future.

The Vailsburg track team opened its 1965 season with bright prospects, despite the fact that few lettermen had returned. In the past, few candidates had gone out for this grueling sport, but this year proved to be different. When practice began in early March, the team consisted of about 100 boys. Under the coaching of Mr. Frank J. Hill and Mr. Arthur Scavone, the Vikings spent many afternoons practicing on the sidewalks around Vailsburg; and by the first meet, 75 rockhard men faced their opponents. The team showed vast improvement over previous years.

Classes

The key to humanity's ultimate goal of world peace lies in man's ability to understand his fellow man. Here at Vailsburg the seeds of this vital understanding are planted with care so that they may grow within each student and eventually bear the fruits of peace.

On the following pages appear candid photographs of the faculty and students of Vailsburg High School in various classes. Here the foundation for understanding is being laid by those who hold the future of our country and the world in their hands.

A.P. MATHEMATICS IV

MATHEMATICS

In a world that is becoming ever more mathematically-minded, a strong background in mathematics is essential for the well-rounded person. The mathematics department here at Vailsburg is providing this background most efficiently. The regular mathematics courses: Algebra I and II, plane geometry, trigonometry and advanced algebra, provide the average student with a full reservoir of mathematical knowledge. For the enterprising student, an advanced placement program is offered. This program includes a year of college calculus and trigonometry taught by the department head, Mr. Martin Moskowitz.

SECRETARIAL

The secretarial pattern, which stresses typewriting and stenographic skills, prepares a student to begin an exciting career as a secretary. In the senior year it offers a laboratory course called secretarial practice, which provides training in the operation of business machines and gives practice in office procedures. This pattern prepares students for immediate, initial employment after graduation.

BOOKKEEPING — CLERICAL

The bookkeeping pattern includes two years of bookkeeping, two years of typewriting, and one year of accounting, office practice, and business machines. The clerical pattern offers one year of record keeping, clerical procedures, office practice, business machines, and two years of typewriting. The training in each area qualifies graduates for immediate employment.

LANGUAGES

FRENCH

The destiny of the world is dependent upon the good relationships among its peoples; yet few Americans learn to communicate in any language other than English.

A typical Vailsburg foreign language course in French, Spanish, Latin, or Italian not only teaches students the fundamentals of reading and writing the foreign tongues, but also stresses cultural contributions and historical background.

This program helps to promote understanding of and respect for other cultures, thus preparing students to cope with the challenges of the world.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The Social Studies Department at Vailsburg High School, under the direction of Mr. John Pettiti, offers an excellent curriculum in both required history courses and enrichment subjects. The courses consist of world history, U.S. History I and U.S. History II. Electives include international relations, economics, modern European history, and civics. These subjects offer the student knowledge about the world of the past and preparedness for the life in the future.

SCIENCES

With scientific terms becoming household words and news of scientific exploration on everyone's lips, the well-rounded individual needs a knowledge of science as well as of the arts. The Science Department, headed by Mr. Rocco Misurell, is doing its share in keeping V.H.S. students up-to-date scientifically.

CHEMISTRY

In the past three years, four science courses with new approaches have been introduced: PSSC physics, CHEM Study chemistry, college chemistry, and the BSCS Yellow Version biology course. A four-year science curriculum consisting of biology, chemistry, physics, and college chemistry is available for the exceptional student.

PHYSICS

Since, in the future, alumni of Vailsburg High School will encounter more and more science in their homes and places of work, every graduate is required to have at least one year of science.

Activities

By stimulating the exchange of ideas and the discussion of problems, the various extracurricular activities at Vailsburg High School help provide the insight and knowledge upon which peace through understanding rests. At the end of the regular school day, teachers give freely of their time and knowledge to strengthen the students' interest in extracurricular clubs. The informal atmosphere of the clubs encourages the students to work and learn together and thus promotes understanding.

Students interested in music are members of the band, orchestra, or chorus. Linguists are able to practice their pronunciation and to put the language to practical use in the Latin, French, Italian, and Spanish clubs. The Vine and Pen in Hand give students an opportunity to express themselves on paper. Athletically-inclined students join the various teams, the twirling squad, the pep club, or the cheerleaders. Active minds interested in science or mathematics are given a chance for experimentation and discovery in the Math Club and the Future Physicians' Club. For those who are interested in preparing for a career, there are the Business Club or the Future Teachers of America. Students with high scholastic averages and an interest in school affairs are elected to the Student Council or the National Honor Society.

STUDENT COUNCIL

OFFICERS: Standing: Madeline Cancellieri, recording secretary; Miss DeMartino, advisor; Valerie Valentini, treasurer. Seated: Linda Pecora, vice-president; Linda Verderame, president; Joanne Santoriello.

The Council is made up of two groups: the Executive Board and the Board of Homeroom Representatives.

Five officers, elected by the student body each year, make up the Executive Board: president, vice president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary, and treasurer.

The Board of Homeroom Representatives is made up of the homeroom presidents and vice presidents, who carry information to and from the homeroom and the Council meetings. The members of the homeroom present their problems and questions to the homeroom President, who, in turn, takes these matters to the Student Council meetings for discussion. The members of the Student Council work together to find the best possible solutions to these problems.

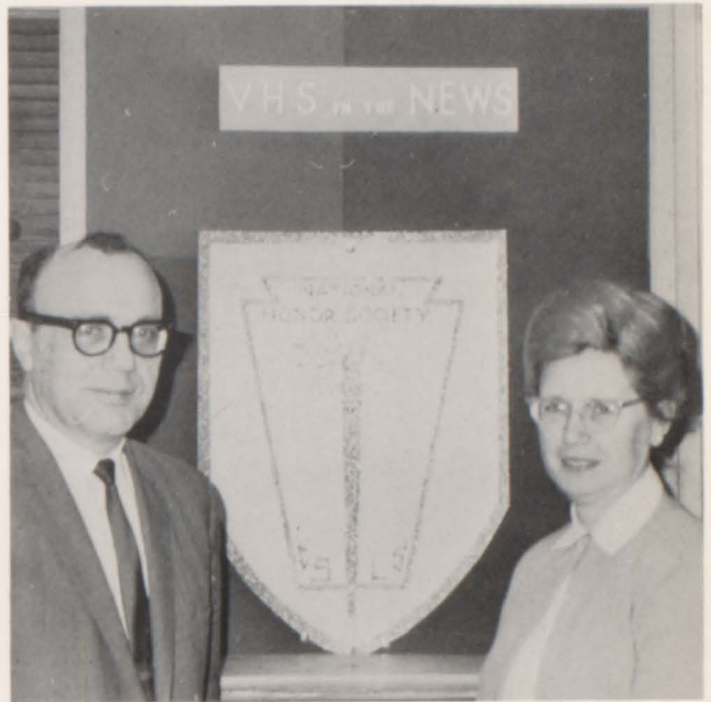

Members of the Council have been of service to the school in many ways: selling bus tickets to football games, supporting the library book drive, and assisting as ushers at school functions.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society inducts its members at a ceremony held near the end of the junior or senior year. Outstanding students having a B average and displaying the traits of Scholarship, Service, Leadership, and Character are eligible for consideration. Traditionally, members run a tutoring service for pupils in all grades.

Under the guidance of Mr. Moskowitz and Mrs. Bacheller, the Stephen Crane Chapter introduced a new program this year. Realizing the problems of choosing colleges, the Society recently arranged college visitations for interested juniors.

The members of the National Honor Society have successfully carried out their responsibility to promote an enthusiasm for learning at Vailsburg.

One of the most interesting extracurricular activities at Vailsburg is the Assembly Committee, supervised by Dr. Elias Levinson. The committee has the task of arranging programs, which supplement regular class instruction, and providing student chairmen for assemblies.

During the last two years, the committee has brought to the Vailsburg High School stage a professional production of Shakespeare's Julius Caesar, several demonstrations in physics and chemistry, oratorical and poetry reading contests, and foreign language festivals.

Tom Magzen

Amidst the organized chaos of clicking typewriters and shouting voices the 1965 Valkyrian staff worked for months trying to create a memorable yearbook. In our crowded room, new and unusual ideas were, we hope, pleasingly blended with the old to provide an interesting and attractive publication. Taking snapshots, writing copy, making layouts, and meeting deadlines were only part of the hectic, yet satisfying job.

It was fortunate for us that Mrs. Vekiaris and Mr. Eber selected the competent Thomas Magzen for the coveted position of editor-in-chief. Even as a junior he inspired his staff members to achieve the ambitious goals they had outlined. Tom's valuable ideas are incorporated in every page of the yearbook.

We have tried to make the Valkyrian an accurate reflection of all aspects of Vailsburg High. We hope that in reading it you feel even a fraction of the fun and excitement we experienced in putting it together.

Members of the Future Physicians' Club meet weekly to experiment, learn, and exchange ideas. They have operated on frogs, removed cows' eyes, studied the habits of mice, visited a pharmaceutical house, attended an annual health exhibit, heard lectures by leading doctors, toured a hospital, and witnessed an actual operation. Although only amateurs, the members perform every experiment and dissection with a sincere desire to add to their knowledge and to explore the vast mysteries of medicine. Vailsburg offers its superior math students the opportunity, through its Math Team, to use their knowledge and skill competitively. The team consists of senior, junior, and freshman squads.

In March, the seniors participate in a nationwide contest sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America. In April, the entire team competes in a city-wide contest held by the Newark Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

As juniors, the 1965 senior squad, pictured here, proved to be Newark's best. Helping Vailsburg to attain its championship were Sandra Frederick, Robert Gemra, Jeff Javerbaum, Edwina Rissland, and Richard Smith. They swept five of the first ten positions in Newark's Junior Division.

The Math Team is coached by Mr. Martin Moskowitz, chairman of the Mathematics Department.

The best way to know and understand people of diverse backgrounds is to meet them in a congenial and informal atmosphere. Here at Vailsburg the many social events that we sponsored and attended provided such an atmosphere.

The following pictures illustrate the social highlights of the junior and senior years. The Junior-Senior Reception, the student-faculty games, the Senior Show, the dances, Senior Day, and the Prom were events that will always be remembered with pleasure.

Economics, which has been the underlying cause of so many conflicts, is one of the most important grounds upon which peace through understanding can be achieved. Since his earliest attempts at trade, man has carried his culture as well as his wares to foreign shores. This exchange has been the cause of many long-lasting friendships as well as animosities. If understanding were established in business, it could conceivably spread to government and, finally, to the home.

In commerce, be it barter or pecuniary dealings, it is essential that both parties involved know the value of what they are getting as well as giving. With this in mind, our salesmen went out into the world to sell the boosters and advertisements needed to make their yearbook a financial success. They were met on a businesslike basis by many prospective customers and conducted themselves accordingly, making sure that everyone concerned understood the terms of the agreement. Of course, there were several altruistic friends and relatives who were willing to help as a gesture of sheer benevolence. We have tried to be fair in our financial dealings with the public and hope that this practice will stay with us through our adult years.

We are deeply grateful for the understanding shown by all who assisted us and we hope that you will patronize the establishments advertised on the following pages.
